To

All Vice Chancellors of Technical Universities and All Directors/ Principals of AICTE Approved Institutions,

Subject: Register for Amazon "Women of the World (WoW)" for tech skill development.

Respected Sir/Madam,

AICTE and Amazon MoU have signed an MoU on 16 November, 2023. As a part of collaboration with Amazon India, we are pleased to introduce Amazon's 'Women of the World (WoW)', an exclusive program for women students. The program offers technical and professional skill development courses for women engineering students. The women students in your university/institution may be encouraged to register for the Program and access relevant resources. The MoU may be perused on AICTE website at link: MoU

Amazon WoW offers sessions relevant across four years of engineering. Registered students will have access to workshops led by industry experts, resources for career advancement, information about different career paths and roles, and the opportunity to connect with peers. Most popular Amazon WoW sessions are:

- Data structures and algorithms workshop
- Coding & problem solving
- SQL Basics
- Building familiarity with different Tech & Non-Tech roles
- Online Assessment study sessions
- Tech Interviews decoded

It is requested that you may disseminate / propagate WoW program amongst students of your institution so that interested women students may register on Amazon WoW main page by February 23, 2024 to receive regular updates on the latest technical advancements and to participate in sessions.

For any questions, please reach out to [advpnep@aicte-india.org/ directorpnep@aicte-india.org] or contact Amazon WoW team at amazon-wow@amazon.com. Soliciting your support.

We deeply value your time and engagement.

With regards,

Yours sincerely,

Mamta
