30th October, 2017

The All India Council for Technical Education (AICTE) is a statutory body established by an Act of Parliament for coordinated and planned development of technical education in the Country under Department of Higher Education, Ministry of Human Resource Development. The Council has accorded approval to around 10,300 institutes with intake capacity of 3.7 million students.

AICTE has organized a 2 days' National conference on "Developed Village - Developed Nation" on 29th and 30th October, 2017 for the villages adopted by Hon'ble Members of Parliament – Prime Minister's Dream Project. Approximately 300 active members of All India Panchayat Parishad, Dialogue India, Maulik Bharat, Prithvi Foundation, News 1 India and other Associates / Member Organizations participated and contributed to make the event successful. The challenges of our times Like Unemployment, over depending on the Government, Ecology, UNDP priorities, sluggish progress in actions and impractical approaches were the key issues addressed in the conference.

It has been decided that the AICTE approved institutions located in a particular district will be connected with adopted village under SAGY for technological intervention and networking with for holistic transformation by identifying the possibilities of localized employment, convergence, cost reduction, full use of constitutional provisions for Panchayati Raj, Youth and Women partnership etc.. The students will work on 7 I's - Innovative, implementable, investigative, and inclusive ideas for India; as well as 6P's - public, private, panchayat, profitable, progressive, partnership. The students shall also work on 5C's - convergence, co-ordination, cost reduction, clarity, and capital output ratio.

The major support of the students will be provided through the networking with the following:
